Objective: How we can start trended Aesthetic urogynecology in our daily practice?

In our modern life the people searching for quality, and we are doctors & health care practitioners, working towards the welfare and quality of life of people. The population of this planet going to be old, we will have 1.1 billion menopause ladies in 2025. This huge number of patients will search for having quality and better body image in their sex lives or their personal lives.

Course Description

Aesthetic gynecology (also known as female genital plastic and cosmetic surgery) is a very trended area in many countries and many female patients in premenopausal & post menopausal. They are suffering in privacy from their personal part & they don't know which doctor could solve their problem. The field is widely understood these days and very trended recently in many societies. The aesthetic appearance of the female genitalia in all ages, & mainly for menopause ladies is very neglected, but recently this subject understood to include some elective procedures on the vagina, Vulva, labia, pelvic floor muscles, Perineum, clitoris with aiming to enhance sexual function & body image. These procedures are typically but not exclusively performed by gynecologists or plastic surgeons, urologists and the terminology used varies by medical specialty and across individual practitioners
